Require Include and String Functions

Require vs. Include: Require includes the contents of a file, if the file is not found, execution is interrupted and an error thrown. Include will include the contents of a file but if the file does not exist it will give a warning and continue execution.